University of Saint Mary Freshmen Headed “Into the Streets”

(Leavenworth, Kan.)— For the second year in a row, University of Saint Mary’s freshman orientation will include an optional service project called "Into the Streets." This project is a way of introducing new students to the Leavenworth community, the joys of service-learning, and most importantly, the mission of the university. Ninety students are participating in the project from 8:30 a.m. to noon on Tuesday, Aug. 17.

Service locations include:

Alliance Against Family Violence
Ancilla Daycare Center
Catholic Community Services
Habitat for Humanity
Leavenworth Assistance Center
Ross Hall
Women's Community Y
Youth Achievement Center

Later that same day from 3 to 3:45 p.m. in Annunciation Chapel, is the Matriculation ceremony. Matriculation formally welcomes new students and challenges them to commit themselves to the mission of Saint Mary to prepare students for value-centered lives and careers that contribute to the well being of our global society.

“It's great that we can do both on the same day—a really concrete, immediate way of involving our new freshman in the mission,” said USM Campus Minister Kate Faggella-Luby.
