University of Saint Mary to Host Annual Trick or Treat Off the Street

October 31, 2004

(Leavenworth, Kan.)— University of Saint Mary invites little ghosts and goblins to its annual “Trick-or-Treat Off the Street” from 7 to 9 p.m. on Sunday, Oct. 31. Children may go door-to-door to gather candy at the USM dorm room facilities in Berchmans and Maria Halls on the main campus at 4100 S. 4th Street in Leavenworth.

Last year, nearly 200 local children and their families trick or treated on the University of Saint Mary campus. “It’s a fun way for our students to interact with the local community. The children always have a blast and so do our students. The parents seem to appreciate taking their kids trick-or-treating in a warm and safe environment. We’re busy collecting candy donations and are really looking forward to another big crowd this Halloween,” said Bruce Copeland, director of student housing and activities.
