(Leavenworth, Kan.)— Laughter will be on tap at the University of Saint Mary Xavier Theatre as the Fine Arts—Theatre Department presents Alan Ayckbourn’s hilarious adult comedy Bedroom Farce, a frisky riot about life, love—and what happens when personal matters become public knowledge. Chaos erupts when a seemingly happy couple, Trevor and Susannah, begin airing their private grievances at a party held by friends, Malcolm and Kate. Trevor’s parents, Earnest and Delia and two other love-birds, Nick and Jan, jump in the mix with their issues, and all must deal with the repercussions of making such oh-so-private gripes everybody’s business.

Bedroom Farce premieres at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 17 with productions at 7:30 p.m. on Friday, Feb. 18 and Saturday, Feb. 19 as well. Come see the farce unfold at Xavier Theatre located on the south-east side of the University of Saint Mary Campus, 4100 South 4th Street, Leavenworth, Kan. Admission price is $10 for adults, $5 for students. For more information, call 913-758-6152.

The University of Saint Mary production of Bedroom Farce is a student-produced show, giving the students an opportunity to perfect what they know—and learn what they don’t. The show’s premiere also marks the collegiate directorial debut of USM junior, Patrick Weaver. Weaver was selected by his peers to direct the show. A multi-talented stage presence, Weaver has performed in every major University of Saint Mary production since his freshman year. Due to adult content and language, the show is not recommended for young children.
